Annual Report

Training, Placement & Entrepreneurship Development Cell

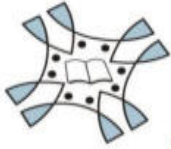

Academic Year: 2024–2025

The Training, Placement & Entrepreneurship Development Cell plays a crucial role in enhancing students' employability, professional skills, and entrepreneurial mindset. Throughout the academic year 2024–2025, the Cell organized various training programs, placement drives, industrial visits, workshops, and entrepreneurship activities to support students' career development.

The Training, Placement & Entrepreneurship Development Cell aims to equip students with the skills, confidence, and industry exposure required for their professional growth. The Cell works as a bridge between students and the corporate world, provides training resources, and nurtures innovation and entrepreneurial thinking.

Objectives of the cell

- To bridge the gap between academia and industry.
- To enhance students' employability through skill-based training.
- To facilitate campus placement opportunities for all departments.
- To encourage and guide students toward entrepreneurship and innovation.
- To maintain strong institutional partnerships with industries.
- To prepare students for competitive exams, interviews, and workplace readiness.

Major Activities Conducted

A) Industrial Visit

Industrial visits play a vital role in the overall development of students by bridging the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application. They provide students with real-world exposure to industries related to their field of study, helping them understand how concepts learned in classrooms are applied in actual working environments. One of the major benefits of an industrial visit is practical learning. Students get an opportunity to observe machines, processes, technologies, and work culture directly, which enhances their understanding and retention of concepts. This hands-on exposure makes learning more meaningful and interesting.

C) Aptitude & Soft skills Training Program

Aptitude and Soft Skills Training Programs play a vital role in shaping students into industry-ready professionals. While academic knowledge builds subject expertise, aptitude and soft skills equip students with the ability to apply that knowledge effectively in real-world situations. Aptitude training enhances students' logical reasoning, quantitative ability, verbal skills, and problem-solving capacity. These skills are essential for competitive examinations, campus placements, and entrance tests. Regular aptitude practice improves analytical thinking, decision-making ability, and confidence in handling complex situations.

D) Entrepreneurship Development Activities

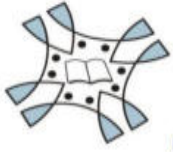

Entrepreneurship Development Activities play a crucial role in nurturing innovation, creativity, and self-reliance among students. These activities encourage young minds to think beyond traditional employment and explore opportunities to become job creators rather than job seekers.

Such activities help students develop essential entrepreneurial skills like leadership, problem-solving, risk-taking, decision-making, and strategic thinking. Through workshops, seminars, startup boot camps, business plan competitions, and interactions with successful entrepreneurs, students gain practical exposure to real-world business challenges.
